

The 2020 ABEN grant for ethical decision making in financial markets, supported by Ecstra Foundation

The Australian Business Ethics Network, supported by Ecstra Foundation, is offering up to two $5,000 research grants for research into ethical decision making in financial markets. The purpose of this scheme is to stimulate research in this area, particularly amongst scholars able to bring sound ethical perspectives to bear on issues of practical concern in finance.

Submissions for the grant scheme are open until 30th September 2020. The selection process will be conducted by the ABEN 2020 conference committee, and the decision announced at the 2020 ABEN conference being held from 7th-9th December at Notre Dame Australia University, Fremantle, WA.

Submissions will be evaluated on their relevance to ethical decision making in financial markets, and preference will be given to submissions that have practical relevance and application. Grants are competitive and applicants will be expected to present findings at the 2021 ABEN conference.

Applications can be made by completing the template below and sending it to submissions@aben.org.au by 30th September 2020. Please include ABEN – Ecstra proposal in the email subject.
